

Classroom Confidential

THE 12 SECRETS OF GREAT TEACHERS

Laurel Schmidt

HEINEMANN
Portsmouth, NH

Heinemann

A division of Reed Elsevier Inc.
361 Hanover Street
Portsmouth, NH 03801-3912
www.heinemann.com

Offices and agents throughout the world

© 2004 by Laurel Schmidt

All rights reserved. No part of this book may be reproduced in any form or by any electronic or mechanical means, including information storage and retrieval systems, without permission in writing from the publisher, except by a reviewer, who may quote brief passages in a review.

Library of Congress Cataloging-in-Publication Data

Schmidt, Laurel J.

Classroom confidential : the 12 secrets of great teachers / Laurel Schmidt.

p. cm.

Includes bibliographical references.

ISBN 0-325-00660-1 (alk. paper)

1. Teaching. 2. Teachers. I. Title

LB1025.3.S38 2004

371.102—dc22

2004010982

Editor: Danny Miller

Production: Vicki Kasabian

Cover design: Night & Day Design

Typesetter: House of Equations, Inc.

Manufacturing: Steve Bernier

Printed in the United States of America on acid-free paper

08 07 06 05 04 EB 1 2 3 4 5

Contents

| | |
|--|-----------|
| ACKNOWLEDGMENTS | xi |
| INTRODUCTION | xiii |
| Secret # 1 Great Teachers Are Equal Opportunists | 1 |
| Capitalizing on How Kids Learn | |
| What's the Big Idea About Learning? • How Kids Are Smart • Multiple Intelligences Go to School • Meet Lisa Bartoli • How Full-Brain Learning Looks • Thinking with Things—Learning Through Process and Projects • Equal Opportunity Assessments • Resources | |
| Secret #2 Great Teachers Are Power Brokers | 23 |
| Building a Culture of Eptness | |
| What's the Big Idea About Eptness? • Building a Class Resume • Why Great Teachers Insist on a Culture of Eptness • Ten Teacher Behaviors That Promote Eptness • How Am I Doing? A Self-Assessment • Social Safety and Eptness • Meet Ava de la Sota • Waking Magoun's Brain • Resources | |
| Secret #3 Great Teachers Are Ringmasters | 43 |
| Nurturing Free-Range Students in a High-Stakes World | |
| What's the Big Idea About Behavior? • Understanding Self-Accommodators • Understanding Camouflagers • Meet Linda Catanzano • Eight Strategies for Ringmasters • The Roots of Free-Range Behavior • The Law, Special Education, and 504s • Hope for Free-Rangers in a High-Stakes World • Resources | |
| Secret #4 Great Teachers Are Curiosity Seekers | 67 |
| Fostering Success in Multicultural Classrooms | |
| What's the Big Idea About Culture in the Classroom? • Meet Rafe Esquith • Culture-Blind or Just Confused? • Seeing Your Class Through Culture-Colored Glasses • Navigating in Multicultural Settings • Culturally Responsive Teaching Strategies • Cultural Awareness and Your Curriculum • Culturally Inappropriate Materials • Resources | |

Secret #5 Great Teachers Don't Take No (or Yes) for an Answer 91
Teaching by Asking Instead of Telling

What's the Big Idea About Inquiry Teaching? • The Three Basic Moves • The Impact of Inquiry on Learning • Wait Time in a Hurried World • Planning Inquiry-Based Instruction • An Inquiry-Based Unit: The Rise of Civilization • Inquiry and Classroom Culture • Resources

Secret #6 Great Teachers Know a Hemingway When They See One 113
Getting to the Heart of Writing

What's the Big Idea About Writing? • From Craft to Art • Getting to the First Draft • Everyone's an Editor • How to Grow a Writer • The Fine Art of Journaling • Is There a Hemingway in the House? • Resources

Secret #7 Great Teachers Are Escape Artists 138
Exploring the World Beyond

The Lot Project • What's the Big Idea About Your Community as Classroom? • Escape Artists: Tips for Exploring Your Community • Capturing Epiphanies—Documenting Discoveries • Where in the World? Getting Smarter About Mapping • Down Memory Lane—Discovering the Used-to-Be Community • Historic Buildings—Learning Through Landmarks • Deep Mapping • Becoming an Expert • Culminations—Sharing Expert Knowledge with the Community • Resources

Secret #8 Great Teachers Are Gossipmongers 164
Putting the Social Back in Social Studies

What's the Big Idea About History? • Meet Bill Coate • Tools of the Trade • How to Make Documents Talk About History • How to Make Images Talk About History • How to Make Objects Talk About History • How to Make Buildings Talk About History • How to Make Books Talk About History • Encouraging Investigative Independence • You Were There—Historic Simulations • Authentic Assessments in History • Resources

Secret #9 Great Teachers Are Drama Queens 188
Using the Arts as a Second Language

What's the Big Idea About the Arts? • The Brain, Learning, and the Arts • Helping Students Learn Through Drama • Helping Students Learn Through Movement • Helping Students Learn Through Music • Helping Students Learn Through Art • Recognition • When All Is Said and Done • Resources

Secret #10 Great Teachers Are Insurrectionists 209

Learning Through Social Action

Meet Barbara Henry, Ruby Bridges' Teacher • What's the Big Idea About Social Justice? • What Kids Learn from Social Justice • Planting the Seed • Taking Sides: How to Choose a Social Justice Project • Prepping Students for Action: Politics 101 • A Social Activist's Toolbox • Getting Smarter About Social Justice Through Primary Source Documents • Literature and Social Justice • Click for a Cause • The Downside of Social Justice • Improve Yourself, Improve Your Community • Resources

Secret #11 Great Teachers Speak in Tongues 234

Mastering Communication in the Information Age

What's the Big Idea About Communicating with Parents? • Ten Essentials of Effective Communication • Cross-Cultural Communication • A Parent Conference Kit • Public Relations or Self-Defense? • What's in It for You? • Resources

Secret #12 Great Teachers Are Lifelong Learners 258

Reaching, Recharging, and Moving On

What's the Big Idea About Teaching as a Famine Culture? • Connecting with Colleagues • Collaborating and Coaching • Meet Anne Brown, Mentor Extraordinaire • Connecting with Professionals Beyond Your Campus • Rethinking—The Moving-On Questionnaire • Job Searches and Sources • Moving On • Resources

Acknowledgments

GOOD BOOKS, LIKE GOOD CAREERS, ARE COLLABORATIVE EFFORTS. THIS IS PARTICULARLY so in the case of Classroom Confidential, a book that spans more than thirty years of living and working with children. Since my entry into the teaching profession, I have enjoyed extraordinary friendships with passionate educators, especially Pat Lem, Diana Donan, Susanne Henry, and Peggy Harris. I was fortunate to have two amazing principals to guide my teaching career, Edith Dury and John Shambra. In the course of this project I had the privilege of talking to many great teachers including Barbara Henry, Bill Coate, Rafe Esquith, Anne Brown, Linda Catanzano, Lisa Bartoli, and Ava de la Sota.

I have been supported in all my endeavors, both teaching and writing, by a band of loyal friends—Karen Boiko, Bill Himmelright, Paul Heckman, Viki Montera, Christina Cocek, Margaret Maruschak, and Marolyn Freedman. Special thanks to my brilliant editor, Danny Miller—all writers should have a Danny Miller at least once in their lives. And finally to my family—my courageous mother, Dorothy, my beloved father, Robert, my siblings Sheryl, Bob, Richard, and David, my talented children, Thalia and Anthony, and my best friend and coach, my husband, Durnford King.